BAY ST. LOUIS HAS FLOWER SHOW

Beautiful and Successful Occasion
Under Auspices of Home Demonstration Club Given Monday
Night at Hotel Weston Lobby.

The first annual Bay St. Louis Flower Show given under the auspices of the Home Demonstration Club, was held Monday night in the lobby of the Weston Hotel, this city.

For the first of its kind ever held in this city the Flower Show was a success from every angle. The exhibit showed quality and variety, and manifested not only the interest displayed, but again proved conclusively that flowers of many varieties grow to well high perfection on the Gulf Coast. Bay St. Louis has always been noted for its attractive gardens; that many lovers and successful growers of flowers reside here, and it has been said without contradiction that nowhere in the south do flowers grow and bloom as in this section.

Quite a number of visitors were attracted. There was no admission charge. Prize ribbons were awarded. Mrs. Glen Weston, Miss Dorothy Weston and Miss Martha Hill, of Bay St. Louis, were judges. The awards were as follows:

Mrs. Galloway, dahlias, first prize.
Mrs. W. W. Forward, phlox, first prize.
Mrs. W. W. Forward, hydrangea, first prize.
Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, hydrangea, second prize.
Mrs. R. L. Breath, canna, first prize.
Mrs. R. L. Breath, lilies, second prize.
Mrs. Alcide Bradner, gladiolus, first prize.
Miss Emma Edwards, basket lock-steps, first prize.
Miss Belle Faust, sweet pea, first prize.
Mrs. W. W. Forward, vase of roses, first prize.
Mrs. A. A. Kergosien, nasturtium, first prize.
Mrs. E. L. Leonard, nasturtium, second prize.
Mrs. E. C. Fayard, geranium, first prize.
Mrs. Ralph Sollier, geranium, second prize.

In addition to the flower show an attractive and artistic program was rendered and during the evening refreshments served.

The program follows:

Selection from S. C. Orchestra.
(a) Flower Dances (rose); (b) Flower Dances (carnation); (c) Special Rose Dance, Effie Graham Fowler.

Orchestra Selections.
Talk by Mrs. Carl Marshall.
Selection from Orchestra.

Awarding of Prizes.

Mrs. (Judge) Will T. McDonald made the award of prizes and delivered an interesting talk on flowers, a subject she showed herself to be a student, and, easily, a lover of the bloom.

Bay St. Louis, the home of flowers, made the award of prizes and delivered an interesting talk on flowers, a subject she showed herself to be a student, and, easily, a lover of the bloom.

The flower show of Monday night is noted by The Echo with much interest. The idea and enterprise to put it through are to be commended.

Miss Irene Sollier was an indefatigable worker and able assistant in the cause and to her individual effort much praise is due.

ONLY 1000 SITES LEFT ON THE COAST, SAYS BILHEIMER.

Gulf Coast land is limited. That is one of the reasons why values are so strong, says W. E. Bilheimer, general sales agent of Pine Hills-on-the-Bay, and who he thinks they are going to go up. "Because value depends upon the law of supply and demand. The supply is limited, the demand is increasing all the time." Here is the reasoning: From Bay St. Louis to Biloxi, there are about 40 miles of beach front property. Thirty-five would be nearer the mark, but the larger figure is taken for ultra-conservatism. There are 5280 feet in a mile. The frontage then is 211,200 feet long.

Divided into 100-foot sites, that would make possibly a trifle more than 2000 homes on the water front. Probably a thousand of these locations are not and would not be for sale at any price in reason, places which the present owners are determined to hold for family or other considerations. That reduces the number of sites available on the market to 1000, without making allowance for the land lost in street openings, harbor facilities, public buildings, etc. But bump all that in with the 1000 already deducted to be sure that this allowance is not too much.

Only a thousand homesteads on the water! That's the supply—and the demand is being churned up greater and greater all the time, for there are more than a million possible buyers of such resort-residential sites, to take the most conservative estimate of the leisure class in this country of 117,000,000 persons.

Of course, some of the home-sites will run narrower than 100 feet, but figure on a 50-foot basis, and there are available only 2000. Call it 3000 or 5000 or anything in reason, and the supply is tremendously short of the present demand, to say nothing of the possible demand.

That's the reason why such responsible men as W. E. Bilheimer are buying Gulf Coast property and advising their friends and acquaintances to buy Gulf Coast property, because all the signs are that values will continue to increase.

BIGGEST REALTY DEAL BAY ST. LOUIS SHORES

An outstanding deal in Coast realty was announced as consummated this week. Property on the water line, opposite the city of Bay St. Louis, was purchased Wednesday for $1,400,000, and to be improved immediately and placed on the market, and to be known as Pass Christian Isles.

Syndicate composed of Chicago and New Orleans capital bought 1,400 acres, and one-half million dollars will be spent in development. This is by far the most outstanding realty deal on the Coast for some time and will bring to Bay St. Louis untold value. The Bay St. Louis county bridge will connect this development with this city.

Gordon Huff, special press representative, with headquarters at Gulfport, tells of the filing for record at that city, county seat of Harrison, Wednesday by the Bouslog Company, realty of a deed conveying real estate from the Gulf and Bag Company to the Pass Christian-Chicago Land Company, which marked the consummation of "one of the largest real estate transactions since the present activity began on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, more than a year ago."

Mrs. Huff is the authority for the following story of the transaction, which will be read with more than ordinary interest.

"The consideration named in the deed is $1,400,000, transferring approximately 1,400 acres of land fronting on the Bay of St. Louis and Bayou Portage, with numerous smaller bayous running through the property. The syndicate acquiring the property plans the immediate expenditure of $500,000 in development work, it was announced several weeks ago.

"Among improvements, plans for which have already been adopted, are the construction of a wall along the Bay St. Louis frontage, dredging Bayou Boisde and other waterways on the property, making channels, and connecting channels through the property between the several bayous, landscaping, laying out and paving streets and boulevards, laying water mains and other public utility facilities.

"Pass Christian Isles," as the project will be known, will be one of the most modern and extensive developments on the Mississippi Coast, according to plans of the developers. The sale of home sites and estates already has been started, and it is stated is progressing satisfactorily.

"The Pass Christian-Chicago Land Company is financed by New Orleans and Chicago capital. Chicago capitalists being represented in all negotiations by Carl L. Schmidt, who is president of the new company. Participating in the negotiations, which began several months ago, and in consummation of the deal, were Colonel James E. Edmonds and A. H. Johnson, of the Johnson Realty and Securities Company, of New Orleans, which company will act as general sales agent for the property. W. L. Brown, of Covington, La., and M. P. Bouslog, of Bouslog Company, Gulfport."

SERIOUS STREET CAR SITUATION FACING BY SEATTLE.

Seattle and its municipal car line have been more or less in the limelight ever since the property went into political management. Reviewing the situation, an article in the Portland Oregonian, an article in the line, it was agreed that if the 1919 taxes had to be paid, the company would pay for the first three months of 1919 and the city for the remainder of the year. Both parties then thought that transfer of the system to municipal ownership might automatically exempt it from taxation for the year 1919.

The county assessor and the courts held a contrary view, and after the United States Supreme Court in 1924 decided that the taxes must be paid; the city sought to repudiate its obligation, refused to pay any part of the claim, and the county assessor and the sheriff compelled the private company to pay principal and interest, which on June 7, 1924, amounted to $655,279.40.

The company then had to sue the city for reimbursement under the provisions of the agreement as to taxes. The federal court has held that such reimbursement must be made by the city, or the company be given possession of the railway system. In the meantime, interest is accumulating at the rate of $80.78 a day.

In addition to the preceding summary of the case, it should be noted that the people of Seattle have a bonded debt of $13,524,500 for purchasing the line; they have a 10-cent street car fare under municipal operation, or three rides for a quarter; they have lost some $500,000 a year in taxes formerly paid by the private

Commission Starts Planting Bottoms As Season For The Taking of Bivalves Closes.

A fleet of fourteen schooners, manned by a large crew of men under the direction of Chief Oyster Inspector Louis Staehling, of Biloxi, has begun the work of planting shells in the oyster reefs of the Mississippi Coast section from Pass Christian to Pascagoula reefs.

The work started several days ago on the Pass Christian reef and will require several weeks to complete, after which the crew will proceed eastward to the reefs of Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Pascagoula. It is expected that more than 100,000 bushels of shells and oysters will be planted, which will put the reefs in excellent condition. After the completion of the work a special session of the Oyster Commission will be held for the purpose of inspecting the oyster beds.

During the last few months of the oyster packing season, 12 per cent of the public reefs of the State were required by law to be returned to the Board of Oyster Commissioners to be used in planting old reefs and building new reefs. The law requires that not less than ten thousand barrels of shells shall be planted in the tonging territory in front of Pass Christian and 5,000 in front of Bay St. Louis each year.

The commission is also required by law to build new reefs in places where oysters will grow, and is permitted to expend not more than $100,000 annually in improving oyster reefs, spreading shells and making new bottoms. The commission cannot expend more money than is collected as licenses from oyster men, which runs about half this amount.

The season will remain closed until October 1, which will allow ample time for the growth of the newly planted oysters. Because of the half pack made by the various Coast oyster plants during the past season, the oysters are considered plentiful and in excellent condition, and by the time the next season opens, they will have reached the highest standard.

He will return to A. & M. this fall to finish his senior year.

company, which amount is now paid by other Seattle property, and they now have an additional debt of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars staring them in the face, which they will have to pay. Street car service is no better, and it is certainly no cheaper than it would have been under private management.

As time will pass the surface will become better with usage. The Board of Supervisors civil engineers, others participating in the work are to be commended for the excellent roadway.

DEDICATION OF NEW MASONIC BUILDING

Under the most favorable auspices, dedication of the Bay St. Louis Masonic Temple occurred Saturday evening. There were present persons high in the ranks of Free Masonry and the kindred order of the Eastern Star from all sections of the State. The Coast was well represented, Hancock county and Bay St. Louis more particularly furnished the large number of those present. Of the invited guests outside the rank there were a few, while the building is spacious it would only accommodate a limited number, so to speak.

The dedicatory ceremony opened with the regular opening exercises of a Masonic meeting, with Worshipful Jas. A. Evans presiding, who in turn later on turned the duties of presiding officer over to H. C. Yawn, past grand master of the State, and to other members of the Grand Lodge, represented as officers by George Riley, of Jackson, past grand master and present patron of the Eastern Star, active grand marshal, Judge Will T. McDonald, of Memphis, Tenn.; past master, Bay St. Louis Lodge, and senior grand marshal; E. S. Drake, of Bay St. Louis, associate grand master; Ira V. Colly, junior grand master; S. F. Neal, senior grand master; Rev. James G. Gilmore, of Bay St. Louis, grand chaplain; H. D. Shaw, of Gulfport, architect; Fred A. Wright and Simon L. Engman, of Bay St. Louis, committee representing local lodge; C. R. Schreck, of Bay St. Louis, Tyler; D. J. Everett, junior deacon.

The ceremony, turned over to the Grand Lodge, occurred on the third floor, where the altar and arch of the Lodge, 76 years old, was again in use and will continue in position for possibly more than that time doubled.

Dedicatory ceremony was simple, yet impressive and rich in meaning; properly interpreted rich in lesson and significance.

During the evening Worshipful Master H. A. Evans gave an interesting history of the Bay St. Louis Masonic organization and of its former building. He said Bay St. Louis Lodge No. 147, P. & A. M., was organized in 1850. The former Masonic hall was erected in 1851 by J. B. Touline, grand master of the present townsmen, Robt. W. Touline.

The older Touline willed the property to his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Breath, who transferred it by act of sale to the Masons in 1886. The Lodge, however, ever survived, its charter in 1893, and the present lodge, Bay St. Louis Lodge, No. 429, was organized in 1896, with E. J. Bowers as its first master.

Principal speakers of the evening were H. C. Yawn, George D. Riley, John H. Tally, Will T. McDonald, E. S. Drake, and J. A. Breath. E. S. Drake, past master of the State, spoke with emphasis on "What Masonry Has Done in the World," calling attention to the prominent part taken by Masons at different times down the centuries of ages. He called attention to the fact that 51 signers of the declaration of independence were Masons, and possibly two or three more were of the same fraternal affiliation, and called attention to the necessity of living more in union, with less untoward feeling toward brother man and sister; that none with rancor in the heart could enter the temple and belong there.

E. S. Drake, chairman of the building committee, who has accomplished so much toward the building of the temple, was officially presented with a handsome silver centerpiece. Worshipful Master Evans made the presentation in choice and fitting words, and Mr. Drake, overcome for the moment with emotion, accepted it with grace and manifestation of great appreciation.

Another incident of the evening was the presentation, by Mrs. Will McDonald, to the Lodge, of a gravel, fashioned of solid ivory, a most unique and beautiful object. It came from her personally and was presented with much feeling. It was accepted both by the Mason and Eastern Star heads for their respective organizations.

Mrs. A. L. Stokoe, of Gulfport, formerly of Bay St. Louis, the benefactress who made the building of the temple in a great measure possible, was present and was duly honored for the part she had played and for her generosity. Her donation of monies was in memory of her mother and husband, the latter A. L. Stokoe, so well known in this city before his death recently. Mr. Tally suggested that a full life-size picture of the generous and thoughtful woman be hung forever in the "Stokoe Memorial Building." The suggestion met with happy applause.

A musical program, with Mrs. H. U. Cauty in charge, was rendered following the ceremonials, as per program published in The Echo last week. The names of members of the building committee and other data was also published in these columns.

The evening's entertainment was repaired to the second floor, where an informal reception was held and refreshment served by ladies of the Eastern Star. It was a delightful conclusion to this auspicious evening event in this building of beauty and meaning, and commemorative of an event of unusual occurrence.

Membership of the Lodge at present is 110, and is officered as follows: J. A. Evans, worshipful master. H. C. Yawn, senior warden. A. J. Moran, junior warden. R. de Montluzin, treasurer. J. A. Breath, secretary. S. F. Neal, senior deacon. D. J. Everett, junior deacon. R. Schreck, Tyler.

Judge J. A. Breath, secretary, has held this post since 1900, thus it will be seen he has served in this responsible position for 26 years, without interruption, succeeding the late Richard Mendes, who, too, like his successor, held for quite a number of years.

How deceptive appearances may be was again illustrated at Pendine, England, the other day. As J. G. Parry set out to break the world's automobile record for a single mile, his car began to swerve violently from side to side, and anxious spectators said, "Parry is drunk." When he finished the course, it was learned that his lubricating system had failed and that Parry had steered with one hand and pumped oil with the other at a speed of 172 miles an hour, 17 miles an hour faster than an automobile had ever traveled before.

There is proposed, and we have every reason to believe the project will become a reality, to build a new land sub-division for Bay St. Louis, complete with public improvements, and prior to placing the lots on the market to build possibly a half dozen or more stucco and tiled-roof bungalows, as is done in Florida. It is said these structures, which are also offered for sale, give immediate value to the lots and a sub-division of this kind builds quicker than the other kind that sells lots only from the blue print. There must be evident development and positive improvement for the investor or home-seeker and there is no better plan than this, seemingly, at least. It is understood this project will not be a thousand miles from Cedar Point vicinity.

DULL BOYS WHO ROSE.

It is not always the boy who gives the brightest promise in early life who reaches the greatest heights, as many illustrious examples may prove. In a recent lecture, Dr. Tregold, an eminent British expert on feeble-mindedness, declared that Charles Darwin and Sir Isaac Newton were both backward as children, and would probably have been considered sub-normal by present-day authorities.

We may also be reminded that Richard Brinsley Sheridan, the great dramatist, was characterized by his own brilliant mother as "an impenetrable dunce." Similar stories are told of early dullness on the part of Sir Walter Scott, Thackeray, Wellington, Cromwell, and even the great Napoleon.

Our own General Grant, while always mentally alert, was a ne'er-do-well during a part of his life, and although he had performed creditable service in the Mexican War, resigned from the Army in 1854, and at the outbreak of the Civil War was a clerk in a store at Galena, Ill. Yet he became the first ever to hold the rank of a full general in the United States Army and was President eight years.

These examples, with many others which might be cited, should be encouraging to those who may be considered below the average during their school years.

But they do not necessarily indicate that because a youngster is a dumb-bell he is assured of a brilliant future.

HONOR FOR EDITOR.

In recognition of his outstanding service to the cause of education, a large group of leading citizens of Birmingham recently presented a handsome loving cup to Victor H. Hanson, editor and publisher of the Birmingham News.

For several years the News has conducted a vigorous campaign in the interest of better educational facilities for the youth of Alabama and the South. As a practical means toward the end sought, Mr. Hanson, in 1921, inaugurated five annual Birmingham News scholarships, one to each of the higher institutions of learning in Alabama.

Each scholarship covers all necessary expenses of the student up to $500 a year, for four years. Only boys and girls who would otherwise be unable to attend college are eligible for these scholarships. The second group of beneficiaries will graduate this month.

Besides the donation of these scholarships, at a cost of $10,000 a year, Mr. Hanson made an outright gift of $10,000 to the five State normal schools of the State, $2,500 to each, to be used as a revolving loan fund for the benefit of worthy students. He also contributed largely to the erection of a $150,000 dormitory at the Woman's College, named Weona Hanson Hall, for Mrs. Hanson.

Many other beneficiaries by Mr. Hanson might be enumerated, but these will suffice to evince his zeal in the cause of education, which has been so fittingly recognized through the bestowal of this loving cup by his fellow citizens.

NEWSPAPER HONESTY.

In an address before the graduating class of Millsaps College a few days ago, C. P. J. Mooney, famed editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, discussed newspaper-making.

He laid down as the two fundamental requisites of newspaper success the qualities of courage and honesty. Commenting on Mr. Mooney's statement, with which it fully agrees, the Montgomery Advertiser said:

"What counts in judging the character of a newspaper is whether it reasons with intellectual honesty in arriving at its conclusions, or makes an appeal to prejudices and emotions in order to influence the reading public to accept its opinions."

We may add that every editor frequently faces the necessity of making a decision on this very point. It is easy to tell the reader what he wants to hear, to take the popular side, to run with the pack. But it takes courage sometimes to express an opinion, however sound, in opposition to the prevailing sentiment.

But in such a case no editor worthy of his responsible calling ever hesitates. He gives his honest opinions, regardless of who agrees or disagrees with them.

He knows that such a policy will entail criticism, and sometimes loss of business. But he also knows that his newspaper will be respected—and a newspaper that can command the respect and confidence of its community usually succeeds in the long run.

Hardly a week passes but some big project or development is not announced for the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Of the import of such announcement, from time to time, and of future significance there is no doubt. This week there was put on official record the purchase of vast land holding, located on Bay St. Louis and opposite this city, at a figure nearly one and one-half million dollars. It was also announced one-half million dollar improvement would be made at once. The project, although on Bay St. Louis, is to be called "Pass Christian Isles." Ample backed by capital, and promising to be one of the most attractive of subdivisions among the number announced, there is no doubt success will reward enterprise.

GOOD ADVICE FROM SOUTHERN EDITOR.

A Louisiana editor in a farming district suggests a remedy for the ever-growing burden of increasing taxation on farms. He says:

"Doubling and trebling the yields of our unsurpassed farm lands and increasing the number of valuable acres, raising thoroughbred livestock, poultry and vegetables for the markets, will bring prosperity to the extent that we would not worry so much about taxes mounting higher."

"Thousands of acres that once produced our great forests can be made to produce the cash in another way."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune is giving much space and time to fighting the element over in New Orleans and Louisiana opposing the Chief and Rigolets toll bridges, and that paper is to be commended for the stand it has taken in the premises. The utter flagrancy with which the "gang" in power has violated all ethics of public propriety and sense of economic justice smells to heaven. The gang is bold. There is no concealment of its aims. The sunlight of publicity matters little. Like rats of the gutter, in their filth and utter shamelessness, they dart out in the open. May the New Orleans Times-Picayune win the fight it is waging for the people; may it save them from the perpetration of foisting on the public an excessive toll bridge at the expense of a free bridge and shorter route to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, truly God's country!

That so many different business employee organizations have selected Bay St. Louis this season the place for annual vacation holiday is not without meaning, an attestation of the popularity and desirability of Bay St. Louis, and since the visits are repeated we might add, the hospitality of our people. Wednesday the doors of the Bay-Wideband Yacht Club were thrown open wide for the excursionists and the use of the premises given. Tomorrow the number will be larger and the same place will be at the disposal of the guests, and our people will again, with their cars, take the visitors over the city and surrounding country. We assume these vacationists are glad to come to Bay St. Louis, and we give voice to the assurance we as a people and community are glad to have them, and hope for their return.

An event of more than ordinary interest over the State was the dedication at Bay St. Louis a few days since of its Masonic Temple, one of the finest and most imposing public buildings of its kind in Mississippi, and which has elicited the most complimentary comment from all who have seen the exterior and visited within, regardless of affiliation. Such building is an acquisition to our city and section, and forms a nucleus in the business section for better and more substantial buildings. At this rate Bay St. Louis would build rapidly and wonderfully, to say nothing materially. The floral designs, messages of congratulations and personal felicitations are all significant; pay tribute to achievement and a recognition of the efforts of those "to whom all praise is due."

Seventy-five citizens of Waltham, Mass., will deposit $750 with a trust company for 300 years at compound interest, figuring that by the year 2226 the fund will reach $75,000,000, when it is to be used for civic improvements. But the Ford people will probably get it, along with all the other money in the world, long before that.

RUNNING DOWN THE TOWN.

If you had a horse that you wanted to sell, you would not go about talking constantly about its bad points. If you did, you wouldn't be likely to sell it. What would you think of a merchant who made a practice of standing out in front of his store telling all passers that his goods were shoddy and not worth much? You would probably say he is a fool, and you would be right. Now, the town in which you live is your own; your business is here, your job is here, your property is here. Do you think you are going to make your business any better or add to the value of your property by standing around and roasting about what a rotten town it is? If you do, you'd better see an alienist about your mental condition. As a matter of fact, every time you "run down" your town, you are hurting your own business and detracting from the value of your property. Even though you may have no pride in your community, you ought to injure your own interests. Every business concern, in addition to a stock of goods and plant, has intangible assets of the greatest value. Among the assets is its good name, its reputation for square dealing. When you hurt the good name of such a concern you injure it more than you would if you should burn down its plant. Besides its business and industrial institutions, its homes, schools and all other kinds of property, every town has intangible assets which must be protected. When you talk down your town, you are injuring its good name and thereby giving it a blow of the most serious kind. If you want your business to be better, if you want your property to increase in value, if you want to live in a better town, forget your grouches and begin to talk for your town instead of running it down.—Minnesota Sentinel.

NOTICE TO BORROW FUNDS.

The State of Mississippi, Hancock County. Board of Supervisors, May Term, 1926.
Be it remembered, That at the above stated term of the Board of Supervisors of said County, an order was made by said Board, which was in the following words and figures, to-wit:

Whereas an emergency has arisen and it is necessary to borrow money for Hancock County to meet the expenses for the highway fund for supplementing money on hand in building bridge connecting Hancock and Harrison Counties over the Bay of St. Louis, in anticipation of taxes for the year 1926, to supplement money on hand in building said bridge and to defray the expenses of said year and to issue the negotiable notes of said county maturing not later than February 1927, and bearing not more than 6 per cent interest per annum.
The Clerk of this Board will publish a certified copy of this order as required by law so that the adult tax payers of said county may protest if they desire.
I, A. A. Kergosien, Clerk of the Chancery Court, and ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in and for the County and State aforesaid, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing transcript is a true and correct copy of an order passed by the said Board of Supervisors, and entered at their May Term, A. ## TRAVEL is the Great Broadening and Educating Influence

Plan this summer to see a different part of the world from that in which you live. See some of the great God-made, as well as man-made, wonders of the universe.

Different climate, different environment, different people—these are the things that make a vacation trip beneficial, from the standpoint of health, of pleasure and of mental stimulation.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad is the great vacation line, affording excellent through service to the mountains, lakes, seashore, inland watering places, big cities and points of general interest. Ask any L. & N. Passenger Agent to help you plan your vacation trip.

Each year more people are traveling greater distances on American railroads. During 1925 the average ride of each passenger on this Railroad was but 45 miles, whereas during 1926 the average ride was 65 miles. This Railroad carried 10,381,000 passengers during last year.

Late messages from the bedside are to the effect that the patient is not doing so well. She was suddenly stricken ill. —The advertisement on the third page of this week's Echo by H. H. Mullikin, local realtor, brings to mind the effect there are entirely too many "For Sale" and "For Rent" signs over the city and vicinity, which, in a measure, prove detrimental to a stranger making his first visit to this section and with a view of either locating or investing. In some cities this is prohibited. Public placarding of any signs and other advertising is prohibited. It seems the matter should be regulated to a certain extent.
